AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY WOMEN:
 Illinois State Division. Records, 1924-1992.
 1983-1994 Accessions (LOTS 1-7)

Lot 1, 1924-1983

The Illinois State Division of the American Association of University Women began in 1833 with the formation of the Western Association of Collegiate Alumnae. This Chicago organization was modeled on the Boston-based Association of Collegiate Alumnae founded two years before. These two groups, which merged in 1889, joined with the Southern Association of College Women to form the American Association of University Women in 1921.

Today, there are more than seventy-five local branches in the Illinois State Division. Records of the division include bylaws both for the division and for individual branches; membership directories; minutes of the state division; convention and workshop reports; correspondence; committee reports; financial statements; memoranda concerning AAUW-endorsed legislation and issues; newspaper clippings; publications, including the University Woman, a quarterly publication of the Illinois State Division, scrapbooks; and tape recordings.
